Dear Mr Pajak

ANIMALS (SCIENTIFIC PROCEDURES) ACT 1986

I am pleased to inform you that the Secretary of State has granted your application for a personal licence.

You should check through your licence carefully for any endorsements on this licence in relation to animal types, procedures, establishments, and the conditions attached to it. A personal licence on its own does not authorise you to perform regulated procedures on protected animals. You may only perform the procedures specified on it in the course of a project for which a project licence has been issued under the Act. The use of unauthorised procedures is a breach of the Act and may result in a prosecution and/or revocation of your licence.

You are required to keep a record of all procedures performed under the authority of your licence. This information must be made readily available to the Inspector or Secretary of State when required. If you cease to carry out work requiring a licence (for example leaving the UK to work abroad) you must return your licence to the Home Office.

As soon as you cease to work at the establishment given as the primary availability on your licence, or it ceases to be the place where you wish your licence to be primarily available, you must notify the Home Office, as this change will affect the fees charged. Under the Act you may not delegate the authorities granted to you under this licence to any other person. No other person may perform, either in whole or in part, any procedure authorised by your licence. The only exceptions are certain specific tasks of a non-technical nature. If you have been granted permission to delegate any such tasks, this will be recorded in additional conditions attached to your licence. No other delegation is permitted.

Should you wish any part of this licence to be amended, you must apply to the Home Office giving details of the changes requested and using the attached form.

If a condition of supervision is attached to your licence it is your responsibility to ensure that your supervisor is aware of the authority granted to you under this licence.

Yours sincerely

Miss Debi Dempsey
